Racism is not exclusive to the bounds of a space or time. It is a phenomenon that is deeply engraved in the Western world, and continues to affect women and men of colour every day. Whether you are an Asian 61-year old man to a 19-year old girl, all forms of harrassment come from a place of white supremacy. Within this book, two different experiences depicting a hyperaggression and microaggression ultimately aligning to the same perpetrator. Racism towards AAPI did not start in 2019, it has been a prevalent issue which has been deeply engraved in our culture since the beginnings of colonisation.
